Preferred Freezer Services
Global Aquaculture Innovation and Leadership Award

Application Form

The Global Aquaculture Alliance supports technological research and development that advances aquaculture to meet the broad expectations placed on it to provide nutritious, safe, environmentally friendly and socially responsible seafood. GAA has established the Preferred Freezer Services Global Aquaculture Innovation and Leadership Award to recognize those who are making the extra effort to find new solutions to the challenges faced by the aquaculture industry, as well as those who provide the leadership required to champion such developments in responsible aquaculture.

Both individuals and companies performing activities related to aquaculture farming are welcome to submit applications for award consideration, and third parties may also submit nominations. Although participation in GAA's Best Aquaculture Practices program is not required, nominees associated with BAP certification may receive preferential review.
